

PSY 403
PSYCHOLOGY OF PERSONALITY
Final Exam Study Guide

The exam consists of 45 multiple choice questions (worth 1 point each), 15 matching (each worth 1 point), and two brief essay (worth 20 points each).

The multiple choice covers material from the reading assignments. The matching and essay questions address material presented in the lecture.

Chapters covered by the exam (refer to the syllabus for the assigned reading for each chapter:

Intro to Part Five (pages 415-419)

Chapter 12 Maslow

Chapter 13 Rogers

Chapter 9 Cattell

Pages 637-645 Use of the Big Five Supertraits

From the lectures pay particular attention to the subjects of:

Humanistic theories of personality

Cognitive theories (Ellis and Beck)

Cattell and Costa/McCrae

Biological Model

Culture and Personality

Johnson's Balance Model

On this final exam you will be asked to answer an essay question concerning the personality theory presented in class during the quarter which you particularly like. Know this theory well!

Here are two multiple choice questions which will actually be on the final. You will find the correct answers on the page numbers indicated.

Cattell defines personality as:

- A. Species specific behavior of a universal nature
- B. That which tells what a man or woman will do when placed in a given situation
- C. The term for behavior springing from innate drives and traits.
- D. That which allows one to generalize the behavior of an individual to that of society at large.

Answer: Page 298

Maslow and other humanistic psychologists saw a need for a drastic revision of contemporary psychology so that primary attention can be paid to topics that had been relatively ignored by existing theories including all but one of the following:

- A. Love
- B. Creativity
- C. Learning
- D. Humor

Answer: Page 417